On The evening of the 9th of May 2012 the Supercar Thailand Championship day for the 2011 season was held at a fashionable Hotel in Bangkok, with News and media cramming the space in front of the stage.

Our Team again showed that since it was started back in 2002 it has been one of the most winning teams in Thailand, and would have to be considered as one of the top teams.

The Pizza Company Racing Team won 3 Thailand National Championships in the Supercar Thailand Series.

Tony Percy took a full house and won both the Drivers and the Team Championship

Thomas Raldorf together with Akihiro Asai and Pete Thongjuer won the coveted 2011 Supercar Thailand Team Championship in the biggest class called Supercar Open Un-limited.

The team is focused on restructuring internally in 2012 and improving on the equipment and logistics, and will therefore only participate in the Thailand Endurance Championship and the Thailand Touring Car Championship.

The aim is to be well prepared for the 2013 season, and have the best possible equipment and backing available for a full charge at all the Major Championships in 2013.

2012 will see the departure of Akihiro Asia from the Team, as he is moving across to another top team, and we wish him all the best for the 2012 season and onwards

2012 will also see the arrival of Alan Lewis to the team as a new rookie in his first ever season in cars, having moved up from Go-Karts. Alan will be competing in the Thailand Touring Car Championship in the beginner class called Class C, and we are hoping he will be one of the Championship Contenders in this rookie class.

2012 is also the year where we have changed web-site for the team, and the new web-site is <http://www.tr-motorsport.com>
